

Just HANG On In There!

Written by Christi Washington

The season of the unusual also brings about the unexpected. God will allow the unexpected to happen in your life in order to grow your faith and build your character. It's just like getting on a healthy diet, you can't just go all in unless you start eating differently one day at a time. You must condition your body for it. God never likes to rush the process because no matter how impatient we are, a miracle can shock us and come prematurely! I think about the time when Pas-

A Time To Laugh

By: Renee Allen

Welcome Summer! As the Bible reminds us, there is a time to laugh, and I believe the beach is the perfect place for it. I absolutely adore the beach - the sound of waves crashing against the sand, the warmth of the sun shining down. It's an ideal setting for meditating on the Word of God, journaling, and reflecting on goals. Are you on track? Do you need to make any adjustments to your timetable? What messages is God communicating to you? Embrace the sun and live each day as if it were your last.

ever, God knows us better than we know ourselves. If you think about the miracles and healings Jesus did, he never did them in the same timing as man wished or wanted. Just like Lazarus, and you know Jesus loved him, but He waited. He knew He would raise up His beloved friend, even after he was buried for four days! The real power is in the I AM, which is God's name. If you are waiting on a breakthrough and the unusual miracle to happen, whatever you do, don't give up, keep pushing! The Lord sees and knows everything you are doing. There's really no need to worry about your life. I know it's seems hard and the unexpected comes, but remember that it's making room for the very thing you are waiting and praying for. Once it happens, then you'll know, IT'S GOD!
